

March 2019 eNews

We are pleased to announce that the Clarendon Community has a new logo. This logo will offer a new and unique brand for Clarendon that will be easily identifiable and consistent with the Clarendon Community Associations 'sense of place' statement. The logo presents what we believe are the main elements that Clarendon can identify with:

- Hills & valleys
- Historic architecture
- Onkaparinga River
- Art & culture
- Community

This logo will be used in all correspondence, on the new website and in all advertising. We also aim to incorporate this logo into individual Clarendon community groups, ensuring Clarendon has a connected & consistent visual presence.

Alongside the new logo we also have a new website address www.clarendon.org.au

The website content is in the process of being updated with a new format and more current information. We will keep you updated on the progress.

The Clarendon logo was designed by Brad Pickford from No Anchovies Studios noanchovies.com.au

Brad has contributed his valuable time and considerable expertise to this project and the community is indebted to him.

Clarendon Community Association News

The Clarendon Community Association is in the process of writing a Welcome to Clarendon booklet. This will be handed to all new residents and we hope will give them valuable information about our town as well as welcoming them to our community. We are in the process of collating contact information on all businesses, services and community groups in the town. All businesses will be listed however if you have a business and would like to include an advertisement, we are hoping to be able to accommodate that as well for a small fee. If you would like to ensure your business or community group is included in this booklet please email news@clarendon.org.au Information in this booklet will also be included on our website.

Clarendon Historic Hall & Museum

In January the Clarendon Museum was lucky enough to receive the generous donation of a dog registration tag dating back to 1897. The tag was found by Mr Eric Suponin and his son Nicky, whilst relic hunting in the Clarendon Bicentennial Park (reserve opposite the Bakery). The registration tag is in fantastic condition for being over 120 years old. Eric and Nicky had a good browse of our collection after presenting us with the tag. They noticed a brass tag in our War collection had similar characteristics to the tag they had just found. We removed the medal, and lo and behold it was a dog registration tag from 1932. In one day our dog registration tag collection went from one to three!

We encourage everyone to visit the Museum to inspect our expanded dog tag collection! We are opened on the last Sunday of the month between February and November, 1pm to 4pm.

If you have any historical objects, photos or information relating to Clarendon please email us at history@clarendon.org.au.

Local Weather

Hopefully we are almost finished with the extended and hot summer. Rainfall this month did not fill any tanks or dams.....

Thank you Gillian

The Santarilla photos used in the February eNews were taken by Gillian Rayment. I would like to apologise for not acknowledging her photos in the January eNews. Thank you to Gillian, for setting up the Santarilla facebook page with fun photos and the detailed map of where to find these cheeky fellows. We really appreciate the effort that went in to creating and maintaining this great page.

Farewell to Craig and Megan Hill from Turners Gully

Craig and Megan and toddler Tristan moved to Clarendon in 1982. They purchased the house at number 77 Turners Gully Road. The house needed a lot of work as did the garden and they set to work getting the place in order. Twins were born soon after moving and little ones Siobhan and Rhianne joined the family. You would often see big brother Tristan walking down the street with the two little blondies trotting behind.

Craig renovated and extended the house to a comfortable family home and they spent many hours outdoors creating a beautiful and extensive garden. The garden was a place where Craig could express his artistic side and many rustic garden features were found dotted in and around plants and pathways. Megan was a teacher and Craig held several positions from maintenance worker at a winery to chef at Pruetts. He opened his shed for Saturday morning coffee to all on Turners Gully who cared to join and it became a regular social catch up. Often the waft of scones cooking joined the pleasant coffee aroma to those who walked the Turners Gully loop on a Saturday morning. (These Saturday morning catch ups were so popular the locals have found a new venue just down the road a little way).

All the children attended the Clarendon Primary School and played local sport. The family were involved in the Tennis club and the Netball club for many years. Craig was an active member of the Clarendon Community Association committee in the early 1990's and was also a member of the CFS.

Now grandparents, Megan and Craig have purchased a caravan and intend to go on extended trips around Australia from their new easy care base in Glengowrie.

Megan spoke highly of Clarendon and the supportive community. She said it was a great place to bring up kids and they have enjoyed their time here immensely.

Craig and Megan are another couple who have contributed to our community over the years and we are sad to see them go. We wish you all the best Megan and Craig.

Do you have news to share with the community?

The eNews is a community newsletter. It is for locals to read and for locals to contribute. I'd love to share more relevant and interesting news with our readers however rely on community members sharing their stories with me.

The eNews is published at the beginning of each month. Reminders are sent to all community members and groups who have expressed an interest in contributing to the eNews about the 22nd of the previous month. This allows about a week for information to be sent in and collated. I am happy to write up the story if you are pressed for time. A summary or even bullet points will do. I am also happy to use PDF's.

The Fringe hits Port Noarlunga

World-class comedians, Aboriginal art, a dance party and Tom Jones (sort of) are among the bumper Port Noarlunga Fringe Festival program which is on now and runs until 16 March. The festival boasts a diverse mix of local and international artists and spans across two venues - the Arts Centre and Sauerbier House.

City of Onkaparinga Mayor Erin Thompson says the number of Adelaide Fringe shows, exhibitions and performances in the Onkaparinga region has been steadily growing.

"The Port Noarlunga Fringe Festival program has something to suit every age and budget," she says.

"Whether you're keen to see a show or simply wander down to Fridays by the River at Sauerbier House to enjoy food truck fare and free local acts, you can experience the best of the Fringe without having to drive down to the CBD."

Put the following dates in your diary and start planning Fringe fun with friends and family in Port Noarlunga.

1 February - 18 March

Exhibition: Aspects of Me - De Greer-Yindimincarlie, Free, Sauerbier House

1 & 8 March

Fridays by the River, Free, Sauerbier House

Saturday 2 March

The Merindas dance party, $20-25, Arts Centre

Saturday 9 March

That Jones Boy, $30-35, Arts Centre

Saturday 16 March

The Best of the Adelaide Fringe Comedy, $20-25, Arts Centre
